Will Friendship buy us Bread.

(Suggested on learning that a family consist ing of a mother, a daughter agel ten years and a boy of 3 years old, lived in the lower part of the city in a state of starvation, the boy actual ly dying, during the save e weather of the winter, the little girl applied to the wife of one of our wealthy citizens for aid, received the following Mother, she spoke of friendship;

What did the lady mean? Of brighter days for us in store, Although by us unigen. She said we'd yet be happy, Then turned away her head, Now mother quickly tell mo, Will friendship bay us bread? Will friendship buy us bread, mother?

If so, when will it come? Por days have passed since it was seen Within our wretched homa. I care not for myself, mother, But you are pale and weak, And there my little brother lies, He scarce can move or speak, the bade us trust in Providence, And said it would provide; So mother, cheer thy spirits up, Whatever may betide. Yet see, my little brotker droops, And death-pale grows his che :k, He lifts his little hands to Heaven, And tries in vain to speak.

He sinks and he is motionless-He falls a lifeless clod; His bleming rests up in us both-His spirit's gone to God. This, mother, s the promised aid, The lady said would come; It takes us from this wretched world. To a bright and happy home.
